

What we do:

Our service works with children and young people up to the age of 18, who have experienced sexual abuse. We also provide a service to their parents and carers. All children in Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland are eligible to access our support.

What we offer:

- Individual therapeutic work. This is usually offered in 6 week blocks. We seek to involve parents and carers where appropriate.
- Group work for children and young people. We offer separate groups for boys and girls.
- Group work for parents and carers who wish to provide support to their children.
- Consultations to professionals who want to support children who have been sexually abused.

Where work takes place:

The service is delivered at Family Action offices or at a suitable alternative location such as a school or community centre.

How we work:

- We support children, young people and their families to address the impact of sexual abuse.
- We provide advice to reduce the risk of future abuse.
- Our service is confidential. We do not share information unless we have to do so to protect a child or vulnerable adult.

Making a referral:

Families can refer themselves or be referred by a professional or an agency.

- Parents, carers, children and young people can make referrals over the phone, or by using a referral form which can be emailed or posted to them.
- Professionals can make referrals for parents, carers, children and young people using Family Action's referral form.
- We will offer a service in cases where there has been no prosecution or an unsuccessful prosecution.
- Re-referrals are welcome as we recognise children's understanding and awareness of sexual abuse changes as they grow.

Feedback from young people:

"I realised that I wasn't the only one, others have experienced sexual abuse too."

"I realised I have been using lots of negative ways to cope, the group gave me confidence to look after myself and to try out more positive ways of coping."

"Sexual abuse is something that happened to me, that shouldn't have happened, but it is not who I am."

"Through the support of the group I felt more hopeful about the future."

"Workers were helpful; I felt that I could trust them."
